Jenny's

Jenny Borland and Mathew Sova first met working at the nonprofit Artists Space in New York, but after the pair picked up and moved out west, they launched Jenny's in 2014 in a former office on Sunset Boulevard between Silver Lake and Los Feliz. Recent solo shows include Mathieu Malouf – the painter and sculptor they first threw the gallery together to exhibit – and Liz Craft, whose eerie mannequin creations are also on view back East, at the Whitney Museum.
