

TRUE COLORS

True Colors: Is There a Post-COVID Future for the International Art Fair?

The head of Art Basel Miami Beach left for an auction house. Does the move indicate broader doom in international art fair land?

BY NATE FREEMAN

AUGUST 20, 2021

The Rundown

Your crib sheet for comings and goings in the art world this week and beyond...

... Artist Mathieu Malouf included a number of paintings by the Instagram artist Cumwizard69420 in a group show at the Chinatown gallery Jenny's. The otherwise anonymous artist sells work for a few hundred dollars on the social media platform but the gallery offered them for several times that price to prominent art advisers.